FACING A WORK DECISION:

Barbara Eddy

Asking God whether He wants me to seek a different job-whether He has a new opportunity or whether He wants me to press on and continue where I am today.

Bonnie Dromey

I've been at a crossroads for awhile. I've tried other things using my interior design background but I also have my real estate license. I'm searching for some direction and guidance on how to manage my time most efficiently

Brad Waller

I got a new job about a year ago that's quite different from my old job. It has great work-life balance benefits, but the actual work just isn't enjoyable and engaging. Jobs that do align with my interests and where I feel like I use the skills best that God has given me involve less family time and work/life balance. Just need prayer for wisdom and guidance in which career path to follow.

Chad Almy

There's a lot swirling for me on that front right now and it feels like I have some big decisions to make in the coming months to the next year or two.

Cortney and Nathan Smith

We are actively looking for new jobs. I've sent out a number of applications and she is doing some courses to prep.

David Hansen

I do highly skilled work, yet I'm barely making minimum wage. I've been trying to figure out how to pivot, or what angle to pivot to. I've been thinking I need to partner with another person or persons to increase turnaround and strategize my workflow, but I'm not sure. I need clarity on what to do next.

Eric Goodman

Feeling discontent at my current job and praying for wisdom on whether to stay at this company, look for another job or pursue something in ministry.

Garrison Hurd

Wisdom on whether to stay at my current job (where there currently isn't opportunity for growth) or take a position with another company. There are many factors including finances and a baby on the way.

Gregory Chancy

Alana Recovery Centers and Cobb Criminal Defense are my current businesses. I'm opening a new business and have been struggling with the fear of putting my assets at risk to do that. The new business is a drug and alcohol treatment center in Loganville.

Heather Morgan

Sensing I'm at a crossroads after 25+ years career that I love. Prayers for super-clear and obvious direction from God about what's next. The ability to set aside limitations or undesirable changes/shifts.

Jason Shepherd

Prayer needed for decisions about current job.

Josh Roland

I'd appreciate prayer for wisdom around staying at my current job or leaving to start my own company.

Kenny Smith

Financial Coaching ministry/business-how does the Lord want this to grow?
Utility Consulting-starting part-time contract with prior employer, Southern Company Gas - want to manage this opportunity well and provide excellent support.

Norrie Morrison

Go Forth Yoga

Wisdom and discernment re: fork in the road.

Ryan Jackson

Kristopher Homes

Pray that we honor the Lord as the company grows and brings on new employees. My position is the regional manager where I am starting up their entire Atlanta area division.

Reid Morgan

I need prayers for my work situation. Things are changing, not necessarily in a positive way, and I need direction. Our organization needs prayer for healing-WellStar home health.

Seth Lytle

VinoBarrel

Wisdom about how to prioritize my time at the early startup phase since time is the most valuable resource to me right now and balancing my life between family and work and being present mentally during times with my kids and wife

Thatcher Young

I am seeking discernment about a significant potential career move.

Tim Galloway

I own a business with a 50/50 partnership- Edwards Residential. There is an opportunity in construction and it would reduce my stress levels considerably.

Here are 3 things I am trying to process:

1. Is this the direction for me?
2. Should I step out of my partnership and develop this on my own?
3. Should I bring this business under my current business partnership?
